

SENATOR VICKERS: I wasn't aware that there was a limitation of that nature.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: But there isn't.

SPEAKER NICHOL: One minute.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: So a person could go through three years and flunk, flunk all their courses in their major but keep enough other grades pretty good to stay in school. Then they can go to summer school and repeat and repeat and repeat and pass them and eventually put together enough hours to have a major in accounting, get a baccalaureate degree and be in effect as dumb as a post because as little as I understand about accounting, if I spent ten years at it, I think I could get a baccalaureate degree. So a lifer, one who can barely wiggle by, is qualified to be the auditor. And you are talking about qualification, that is humbug. I hope you will accept this amendment that I am offering.

SPEAKER NICHOL: The question is the adoption of the...Senator Beutler, for what purpose do you rise?

SENATOR BEUTLER: Just a question. Is this still on an amendment to the committee amendments? A simple majority?

SPEAKER NICHOL: Yes. We are voting on the Chambers amendment to the committee amendments which is simple majority. All those in favor vote aye, opposed nay. Now try it. Look up to the board and see if you have voted. It didn't record promptly. Voting on the Chambers amendment to the committee amendments, simple majority. If you care to vote, please do so. We must get on with the business. Senator Chambers.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: I would like a call of the house.

SPEAKER NICHOL: Okay. The question is, shall the house go under call? All those in favor vote aye, opposed nay. Record, Mr. Clerk, please.

CLERK: 15 ayes, 0 nays to go under call.

SPEAKER NICHOL: The house is under call. Please record your presence. Those outside the Chamber, please return to
